An isometric aerial illustration of a vibrant entertainment complex. The central feature is a winding, light-brown path that meanders through various zones. To the left, a large stage with the text 'ICED INK' is surrounded by a crowd, with blue portable toilets and a food truck nearby. A Ferris wheel is partially visible on the far left. In the center, there's a blue swimming pool with people, a small boat race track with colorful boats, and a 'BANDCAMP' area. To the right, there are two tiered fountains, a carousel with a red and yellow striped canopy, and a large coffee cup structure. The bottom right features a parking lot filled with various cars, a blue bus, and a building with a sign that reads 'Raceway To Fun Entertainment Complex'. A QR code is visible near the entrance. The entire scene is populated with numerous small figures of people engaged in various activities, surrounded by green trees and lawns.
